of Trustees have asked for a 75 cent tax override for the district with vote to be held on July 21.

Seventy-Sixth Year No. 7

The action came after many months of deliberation by a citizens committee, who, however, made no recommendations as a body for an override election.

The teachers, principals, and assistant superintendents in a series of meetings did recommend a tax override. However, they did point out that some cuts should be investigated and the override be for a basic educational program.

The district board of trustees meeting in the Baldy View School all-purpose room before a packed

Thursday to call the tax rate election. The meeting adjourned to be reconvened last night in the formalities.

Though opinions differed, the meeting moved along smoothly. The current general purpose tax rate is $1.85 per $100 assessed valuation. Approval of ceiling to $2.60 will be sought.

Ernest D. Kirkland, assistant superintendent for business services said a 75-cent assessment would produce $428,000 annually. Such an increase would cost the owner of a $20,000 home an additional $31.87 per year, Kirk-land noted.

Gibson-McCarthy Elected

MAYOR GEORGE GIBSON -Re-elected Mayor at the Tuesday night's re-organizational meeting of the council was George Gibson. At Smith's suggestion, the board authorized the sale of three district cars used heretofore by superintendents. This was recommended as an economy move.

Fred W. Kramer, member of a citizens committee that made recommendations to the board earlier this week, asked how a 75-cent figure was reached.

Kirkland presented a list of figures to show that in order to balance the 1970-71 budget the district would need the $428,-000 the 75-cent tax increase would provide.

Another finance committee member, Richard E. Holdaway, contended the district should try for a 50-cent tax increase instead of 75 cents. He noted that the average of the successful tax rate elections held recently in California was 31.7 cents and that the larger proposals had a history of failure, Holdaway contended the employes' proposal for expenditure reductions "are basically de-signed to frighten" the voting public.

Pointing specifically to Supt. Orum's salary of $24,654, Hold-away said 'there are indications that there have been some excesses" in the district.

recommendation concerning a tax election but said, "If there is to be any possibility of successful community acceptance of additional tax burdens, it is the feeling of the committee that it is the responsibility of the district to formulate a program of stringent economy in district expenditures.

"... if the community is persuaded of the sincerity of the effort to economize, it is the feeling of the committee that, with appropriate and aggressive leadership . . . community support for added finances can be obtained."

The committee called on the board of trustees to 'prepare a comprehensive program of responsible financing for the dis-trict in keeping with the goal of maintaining and improving a high quality education for Upland children. Committee member Richard E. Holdaway expressed dissatisfaction with the resolution, noting that approval was not unanimous.

"In effect," Holdaway charged, "this recommends that no recommendation be made."

He contended that "this committee apparently had the votes rigged" when he went into this meeting tonight and that the resolution was formulated in an "unpublic" meeting."
He said recommendations presented by individual committee members at the April 7 commit-tee meeting "were never voted

"Mr. Bailin can be held di-rectly responsible for this," Holdaway charged, "I hate to say that because I like Hal Bailin."

Bailin said the decision to handle the recommendation was made by the citizens' committee's steering committee. The resolution was considered by the whole committee and "everyone had an opportunity to be heard." He said there were only three or four dissenting votes with the remainder voting in favor of the

"The majority of the committee felt this was the proper way to handle it," Bailin concluded.

A committee member said after the meeting that the April 7 recommendations were forwarded to the board along with the committee's formal resolution, all to be weighed by the board in making its decision.

A letter signed by 238 of the district's certificated employes and addressed to acting superintendent James Smith expressed "deep concern regarding the lack of educational leadership that has been evidenced in this district. We respectfully call your attention to the following actions taken by the board:

"1, Formation of citizens committee without consulting the educational staff.

2. Inadequate guidance and leadership and involvement with the citizens committee so it could effectively study the district's financial problems.

3. Failure to work cooperatively with teachers, administra-tors and classified personnel to resolve the district's problems."

The letter said, "we humbly request the opportunity to be involved in a meaningful way in decisions affecting the educational program of our district.

A letter dated April 3 was written to the board of trustees and signed by principals and central office administrators, including Smith and assistant superintendents Darrel L. Dawes and Ernest D. Kirkland, It ex-pressed the feeling that "we are facing a highly critical situation, unlike any encountered previously in our district."

The letter alluded to "per-sonnel problems" but did not specify what they were, it called for a meeting of the district's administrative council with Supt. Vern H. Orum, now on sick leave until June 30. The administrative council is made up of principals and assistant superintendents. Board Chairman Floyd G. Allen announced earlier in the meeting that it appears Orum will be ready to return to his job by July 1.

Schools belong to communities

WASHINGTON -- On the theory that parents are more interested in the education of their children than government bureaucrats, U. S. Representative Jerry L. Pettis (R-Loma Linda) recommends that more responsibility for school programs be shifted to local communities.

The San Bernardino County Congressman acknowledged that the federal government has certain obligations to provide financial aid to education, but he charged that "we are only creating a monster if we throw out billions of dollars without knowing how the money is spent or if it is being spent effectively."

The Congressman's comments on current federal aid to education appropriation bill came during an interview on "Washing-ton News Report," aired locally There is a very obvious need for us to take a more objective look at all these various school programs to make sure they work," Pettis said, And he also advocated the establishment of guide lines in federal aid programs to "make certain that children from depressed areas get the same educational opportunities as kids from affluent areas."

Visit your schools

Visit your schools during Public Schools Week and see your educational dollar in action. We have dedicated personnel in the Upland School district who devote each day of the school year in educating the children, it is because of this dedication that Upland has one of the finest school districts.

Here is a view on schools that ran some years ago in the National PTA Magazine and it is still timely.

What Is a School?

A school is more than a building. You can't know a school from the outside.

A school is a transformer, converting curiosity to learning. A school is a Geiger counter to detect the richest of natural resources - human talent. A school is a magnet to attract young minds to the good, the beautiful, the true. You can't know a school from the outside.

A school is a curriculum - a sequence of learning experiences designed to help children become useful, competent, happy, worthy of freedom. A school is people - pupils, teachers, parents, administrators, citizens, working together.

A public school is an act of faith in people. It is a public investment in human beings. It is the hope and the test of a free society.

Library week

This is Library Week and we encourage you to visit the library and find out how many things besides books can be found there. Beautiful paintings and works of art that can be borrowed so you may enjoy them in your home, films to view in your own living room, and records that bring music, inspiration and enjoyment to the listener.

One other asset in our library is the dedicated people who work there. They help in so many ways and always with a cheerful smile. We are proud of our library and the people who work there.

Visit your library this week and all of the other 51 weeks throughout the year.

A Little Bit

OF THIS AND THAT

By Bob Evans

When everything goes smoothly, it is easy to forget, isn't it, just how fragile man is.

With the successful return last week of the Apollo 13 crew, the world celebrated the home-coming of three very brave men. And Friday hadn't come to a close before some news commentators were suggesting that the manned lunar-exploration program be stopped.

Since April 13, when an explosion rocked Apollo 13 while 200,000 miles from earth, some have wondered if the risks of such manned flights can be justified.

And as Apollo 13 plunged through space toward the moon, Cmdr. ames Lovell radioed to Houston after the explosion: "I'm afraid his is going to be the last moon mission for awhile." The comment was made in apparent anticipation of the soul-searching that follows a tragedy or a near miss. But there's a paradox here, a strange inconsistency that makes no sense. question needs to be answered: is the United States about to halt the manned space flights because of the physical risks involved? Or, is our nation suddenly questioning the value of these missions? The first question is naive because the manned-exploration program resumed after three Apollo I astronauts died in a fire three years ago at Cape Kennedy. So the relevant question is the second one: is the manned space program worth the physical risk?

The paradox is that this soul-searching isn't being applied to the war in Vietnam. In terms of lives and injuries and money, the conflict in Asia has been far more expensive.

With three deaths in January of 1967, NASA learned that an atmosphere of pure oxygen isn't safe in a space capsule.

With lunar samples brought back by the crews of Apollo 11 and 12 last year, scientists are learning more about the moon.

But, with thousands of GIs already killed in Vietnam, and with reports of actions by the Saigon government to indicate that-other than its "anti-communist" flavor-it is no better, really, than Hanoi, where is the justification for continued participation in the war?

After nine years, we have learned only that we don't know what we want in Vietnam. We should be--and are--proud of our servicemen over there. And we must be ashamed of ourselves for not being able to tell the GIs how to complete their mission.

Until we decide what our Vietnam mission is, let's do for our servicemen in Asia what we did for Commander Lovell, Fred Haise and John Swigert.

Let's bring them home.

Guest Editorial

"Today, law enforcement is more strongly united in the fight against crime than ever before," comments Mr. J. Edgar Hoover, director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation. "It values the sacred trust of helping to preserve the high ideals of this great Republic for future generations. However . . . we must be more successful in this worthy cause. If we continue to move ever forward in the tradition of free men, our efforts will be rewarded. Through dedicated service to our Nation and with the help of public-spirited citizens, the soaring crime rate in the 1970's can be contained."

Hospital's Dental Center toured by PTA women

BY MARGARET VINNEDGE

"What's a mother to do?" Some answers to this question were given by dental hygienist Mrs. Herbert Boss at an orientation brunch and tour given by the sponsors of San Antonio Community Hospital Dental Center.

"They can't brush after every meal!" was countered with Mrs. Boss' suggestion to "swish and swallow". "Take a mouthful of water, puff out your cheeks, belonger any help the water to loosen any left-over food hiding in there, then swallow!" Mrs. Boss asked the grown-up audience to hear her "pitch" as she had it prepared for second and third graders. The guests, representing schools in the Foothill P.T.A. Council, included women from Alta Loma-Cucamonga as well as Etiwanda, Guasti and Mountain View. They were greeted by Mrs. A. E. Howell,

P.T.A. liaison and Mrs. Richard Bumstead, secretary of the Dental Center Board.

Dr. Thomas Shoar, president of the Dental Center Board and member of the West End Dental Society greeted the Women after they had toured the facility. The San Antonio Community Hospital Dental Center receives support from the hospital, the participating dentists who are members of the West End Dental Society, Assistance League of Upland, West End United Fund and P.T.A. groups. Paul Hoffman, Assistant Ad-ministrator of San Antonio Community Hospital gave details of the 35 year history of the dental center -- from the depression years when the need was keenly felt by members of the Upland Junier Welfare League (which has become Assistance League of Upland)--to 1966 when the facility was permanently established at the hospital.

Mrs. Wolfgang Koessler, Assistance League Dental Chairman, gave the guests details of the three-phase program. Dental care is given to children in the school areas served -- Alta Loma, Cucamonga, Etiwanda, Guasti, Montclair, Mountain View, Ontario and Upland--to Today's W families who would not otherwise be able to provide care because their financial situation. Pamilies are "socialled" to determine their qualification for care in the program.

Emergency treatment, the first Phase of the program, affects children from head-start age through high school. School nurses, through the central nursing service of the Ontario-Montclair District, make appointments for this emergence care, with followup treatments at the clinic when indicated.

Phase two involves clinic care at the San Antonio Community Hospital Dental Center, Twentyfive local dentists give their time. Parents pay a nominal one-dollar fee per visit. Last year 20 members of Assistance League of Upland donated 800 hours doing office work, socialing and working in a program of oral hygiene in which parents and children learn the values of proper toothbrushing and good nutrition.

Phase three has to do with Junior High children. Dentists are paid a nominal fee by the dental center. This program was begun last year because additional funds were allocated by Assistance League of Upland. This year approximately 12 students were cared for. At Junior High age dental care is particularly important because permanent teeth are involved.

There is a great need to expand the unique program of the dental center, but financial resourses are a limiting factor. Plans are laid to provide toothbrushes and an educational program at head-start centers in the

Dr. Albert Colebank, Ontario-Montclair School District, serves as educational chairman for San Antonio Community Hospital Dental Center. "The main thrust of the education program has been the 20 minute presentations given at second and third grade levels by Mrs. Herbert Boss, dental hygienist," said Dr. Colebank in his introduction of Mrs. Boss.

'Lacti' is the culprit's name, according to Mrs. Boss. This is her nickname for Lactobacillus Acidophilus--the germ that hides in your mouth and thrives on left-over food hiding there. "Lacti is so small that one million Lactis can sit on the head of a pin!" Mrs, Boss continued. Thus the need to brush food away thoroughly, even behind those back 6-year molars, which so many mothers think are In reality merely baby teeth. they are permanent ones that we must work to keep healthy.

DO IT THIS WAY -- Says Mrs. Herbert Boss as she shows Billy Crawford, Shawn Savage and Robin Daytzthe proper way to brush their teeth, Each month Mrs. Boss lectures hundreds of West End children on the importance of conscientious dental care.

"I COULD HAVE DANCED ALL NIGHT" -- Say members of the Senior Cotillion group -- and they did just that at the recently-held World Tour Party. From left, Sheree Spies, Richard Hensley, Melissa Cline and Robert Loney.

Locked in these fuel pellets, which contain uranium, is an incredible amount of energy.

For instance, one cubic foot of Uranium 235 will generate more electricity than 32 billion cubic feet of natural gas.

At Edison, we've been using uranium fuel pellets like these for the past two years. The energy they release spins the giant turbine that makes electricity at the San Onofre Nuclear Generating Station.

This peaceful use of the atom means a dependable source of low-cost electricity for our customers. It also means progress without adding to Southern California's environmental problems. With nuclear power plants, maintaining clean air is not a problem. Neither is radiation. No one has ever been injured by radiation from any commercial nuclear power plant in the United States. And plants have been operating for more than 12 years. After all, even President and Mrs. Nixon live next door to a nuclear plant when they're at the "Western White House" in San Clemente. It's less than 3 miles from San Onofre.

In the years ahead, Edison will build more nuclear power units to meet the critical need for more electricity — now doubling about every 8 years. Engineering and design work is underway now for two additional units at San Onofre. They are scheduled for commercial operation in 1976 and 1977. Thereafter, the only major generating facilities Edison will build in the South Coast Basin will be nuclear units. We make this commitment as part of our continuing efforts toward a cleaner, more attractive environment for everyone.

To us, that's important.

UHS seniors will fill the positions of city council members, planning commission members, city clerk, city treasurer, city

'New' housing for poor

By EUGENE BELLO President, Ontario - Upland - Chino Board of Realtors HELP - YOURSELF HOUSING

The old house-raising technique of frontier days where the neighbors pitched in to get a new family started has been confined to history books until recently. Now it's being used to help the poor into better housing.

While reports of such projects, mostly experimental, come from various parts of the country, one of the most notable and enduring is happen-ing right here in Cali-fornia, It's Self Help Enterprises in our San Joaquin Valley.

Over 5,000 people in nearly 1,000 families are occupying new, modern houses as a result of its guidance and the families' own sweat. Mostly, they are rural poor who otherwise would be in crowded, patched-together shacks.

Self Help Enterprises or SHE as it is called in these days of initials, had its beginning in 1961 when the American Friends Service Committee tried the concept, patterning it after a Pennsylvania project during depression years. It guides groups of families to qualify for long-term, low-interest Home Administration. The loan is for a plot of ground and materials.

Then SHE shows how each family can invest some 1200 hours of hard work into a house to be comfortable in and proud of. But before they can wrestle their own two-byfours, SHE helps them with months of counseling with months of counseling with bankers, county planners, architects, contractors, and skilled builders. They go over the obligations of home ownership, how to pick sites, code requirements, work techniques, and schedules. schedules.

Then they build their own homes; they average 12 families to a group. Houses are usually three or four bedroom, 960 to 1200 square feet, costing $40 a month plus taxes and insurance.

In January, 1970, a SHE project tried a refinement of the technique in Visalia where SHE is headquartered at 220 South Bridge Street. They included a house shell made of factory-built wall panels put together on the site by one family in an 11-family

This was also the first SHE project inside a major city. Such projects should now be possible, involving factory-built units, under new legislation that went into effect in January 1970, allowing overriding of local code requirements, provided units are approved by the California Department of Housing and Urban Devel-

As a Realtor, I see the results of remodelings, add-ons, and make-do patching, undertaken by people whose motives are nobler than their skills. SHE projects, and ones like it, channel the desire most of us have to help ourselves into getting the job done right.

Those people are building housing that wouldn't be built otherwise. In the process, they are building pride in themselves, their mmunity or their countryside, and making a small nick in the terrible need there is for adequate low-cost housing.

We applaud.

Tire size can affect speedometer

Have you changed tire size on your car recent-ly? If you have, your speedometer may be inaccurate, Captain Vernon E. Nicholson of the California Highway Patrol warns.

When the circumference of a tire is increased the vehicle travels farther with each wheel revolution than before. The difference is not great, but it causes an inaccurate speedometer reading, a reading lower than the actual speed.

"In other words, you may have a speedometer reading of 65 mph and actually be traveling at 70.

Cal Poly probes problems of environment

ing about environmental problems, a small group of professors at California State Polytechnic College, Kellogg-Voorhis, Pomona is actively doing something about

The group, represent-ing both science and humanities, is laying the foundation of a new curriculum designed to produce graduates who can cope with environmental problems--pollution, over population, etc .-- with as broad a perspective as possible.

The first step toward such a curriculum is the "Man and Environment" course currently being offered to junior and se-nior Cal Poly students.

Using a multidisciplinary approach, the course exposes students to environmental problems in particular, and the broad-er relationship of man and environment in general, through the eyes of the biologist, physical scientist, geographer, environmental designer, historian and philoso-

A survey of the lecture schedule, shows the scope of the course. Some of the topics are Natural Environment vs. Man-Made, Balance of Nature, Pollution, Population, Religion and Philosophical Aspects of Environment, and Heritage, At-titude and Environment.

In addition to the lecures and discussions. students are also involved in practical projects such as preparing a book of current readings on environmental subjects, de-veloping a handbook of continuing sources and resources available in the solution of environmental problems, and coordinating with community groups to provide col-lege speakers on environment subjects. Dr. Mel Stanley, asso-ciate professor of social sciences and one of the faculty members who helped get the course going, believes such a curriculum is vital if current and future environmental problems are to be solved.

The generalist, as he described the student, would know how to begin to attack an environment-al problem. He would know which specialist to call on for advice, and would be able to evaluate that person's ad-

The old disciplines alone, he said, are no longer sufficient. There must be more communication across discipline barriers and a new synthesis of courses to understand man's relation with his environment." Stanley feels the generalist would find ready employment at all levels of government and business in formulating solutions to environmental problems.

Nor, he believes, should this kind of training be limited to the universities and colleges.

"We will need thousands of trained people in the next decade, he said, and beginning training at the high school level would not be too early. Dr. Ronald Quinn, assistant professor of biological sciences, who is also involved in the course, shares Stanley's opinions.

"The world is headed for catastrophe," he said. "World-wide famine can't be avoided, nor the re-sulting political instability and anarchy."

Present education, he said, does pot provide the necessary training to cope with these problems.

In addition to the regular college course, which has attracted some 200 juniors and seniors, Stanley, Quinn and Henry Kordus, associate pro-fessor of environmental design, is presenting an extension course for area residents, which began March 31.

Also entitled "Man and His Environment, the course is being offered at Gladstone High, Covina on Tuesdays, Chaffey High, Ontario on Wednesdays, and Ganesha High, Pomona on Thursdays.

Quinn said the course would be more of an informational type than the regular class in order to bring environmental problems to the attention of the public, and deter-mine needs and interests in this area.

Too Hot To Cook?

If it's too hot to cook when summer's heat lingers into fall days, shy away from the stove and serve a cool salad for your main dish. Whatever your choice-from a hearty chef's salad to a fruited gelatin-you'll find the perfect accompaniment is a basket of freshly toasted and buttered Thomas' English muffins. Guaranteed to perk up languorous appetites. Thomas' English muffins add welcome temperature and texture contrast.

English muffins are a versatile hot bread, especially when they're enhanced with flavored butters that go with freshing salads so deliciously. Let your imagina tion go creative. Add a hint of garlic, horseradish, lemon or parsley to softened butter for spreading on your English muffins. Try cream cheese alone or with chopped chives added as a muffin topping, too. Plain or embellished, remember Thomas' English muffins for those Indian summer noon and evening meals that feature salads.

REDUCE NOW TO HAVE A NEW FIGURE FOR SPRING

ONTARIO WOMAN REDUCES FROM BULGING SIZE 52 TO SIZE 14 - HAS HER PERFECT FIGURE FOR SPRING

Mrs. Rhodes, a purse, weighed 2151/2 pounds. She reduced 61 pounds and 76 inches. Mrs. Rhodes wrote, "I finally decided that since my children are now married that if ever I was going to live a "slim" life I'd better get at it . . . all these years I had wanted to be a tiny petite instead of a size 52 and now that I've reduced so much I can even dream of being a size 9 . . . I can see it in my Pat Walker

Mrs. Rhodes, in the photo with Pat Walker, is now a size 14 instead of a size 52. Mrs. Rhodes wrote, "The most pleasant way to reduce which could be dreamed of is what I found at the Pat Walker Salon . . . the new Photometric accurately measures those "inches off" but I really don't need to be shown the results because it is such fun to not be recognized by an old acquaintance and have to tell them who you are.

NEW COMPUTERIZED REDUCING MAKES ALL OTHERS OBSOLETE

Reducing Authority International Compares the Old Methods to Hor Revolutionary Computerized Equipment and Program

Through the years reducing has been associated with much promise and little produced programs, many owned, franchised or managed by 'get in and get out" 'promoters' and 'salespeople' who used reducing and the desire of sincere women as a pawn to further their own personal

This has been a stigma to the reducing business and has always been a thorn in the sides of sincere people dedicated to the field of reducing and the needs of women the world over.

Many such companies have come and gone, but unfortunately some still exist and will probably continue to exist.

But fortunately today a woman is better educated about reducing. She has in many ways been exposed to and experienced the good and the bad. She has heard and read promises made that any intelligent woman knows to be impossible to produce. She has been approached and sometines fooled into thinking there were devices and programs that could perform gone into such a program.

"1st lucky 30" she could reduce for mere pennies. Or read of one kind or another new "now you can have your cake and eat it too," food fads that perform miracles overnight with the figure.

In spite of all that has been said and done in this field there still remains one very well known and recognized fact and that is "the need to reduce and the desire to better oneself is just as strong as it was before."

It is with complete sincerity and pride that I can tell you about our new and rev olutionary reducing program. We now have new equipment and programs that invite comparison; that has dated all reducing methods such 25 women have known. Reducing that eliminates guesswork, obsolete equipment and idle promises. A program that faces a woman's reducing problem realistically.

This, I might say, has not been an easy or uncostly project. Much time, experien research and development has and days and that she could project is new equipment and to be and by making an ap- aspect that faces all phases of pointment she could in a mat- a woman's reducing problems ter of days be that size. HAVE HER PERFECT FIGURE

By Miss Pat Walker The Internationally Recognized Reducing Authority

"Why, oh why, did I wait so long to start a reducing program?" moaned an overweight lady as she came rushing into one of our salons. "Now I'll look absolutely awful in all my summer clothes." That remark - paraphrased, of course - is repeated many times by patrons who hurried in at the last minute hoping for the impossible - an instant, overnight shape-up.

It's only natural, of course, that a woman should want to look attractive on special occasions. But it's the wise, intelligent female who makes a ritual of looking her best at all times - regardless of age or season.

After all, there are only a few things any woman can be absolutely certain of in this life. She cannot be sure of always having her worldly possessions. There's no ironclad insurance against losing husband, family, position, security, happiness and good fortune. This is not a happy thought but if a woman will honestly face the reality of truth, she will know that this is in truth a fact.

But one thing about which a woman can be certain-as long as she lives-is that her body is the house in which she lives. It's a smart woman and a realistic woman who openly takes inventory of herself and decides whether she's satisfied or not satisfied with the "house she lives in" - and then if dissatisfied, she makes the decision of doing something about improving her figure and appear-

If a new figure is her decision, she'll feel proud and want to "show off" the "lovelier house" in which she lives. Or, if not, she'll find reasons to hide her figure .. and to settle for second best.

I feel sad for any women today who will settle for a poor figure. It is so unnecessary. Perhaps that was womin's fate back when bustles were the vogue-but not today because any woman, regardless of her age or regardless of how long she's had her figure problem, can reduce to bone structure and firm and tone to wear her perfect dress size . . . and after reducing she becomes a new personality, thankful that she did not settle for second best and with pride in herself looks forward to a whole new concept on life and what it holds.

And with rest, every day, she looks forward to-does not dread-every special season of the year!

DIRECTOR

Census takers wearing special ID cards

Householders will not have any difficulty in identifying enumerators for the 1970 Census of Population and Housing, Director Leonard C. Isley of the Census Regional Office in Los Angeles pointed out. Enumera-tors, or census takers (most of whom are women), are making their rounds in this area calling at homes from which no census forms were mailed back and at homes from which incomplete forms were returned.

Each census taker will wear a red, white, and blue identification card. This card bears the seal of the Department of Commerce, and the words "Census Enumerator, Official Credential" are printed across its face. It bears the census taker's signature and certifies that she is authorized to perform the duties of a census enumerator and has sworn to keep confidential all census information you proPersons purporting to be census takers who do not have this identification card should be reported immediately to the local police or to one of the district offices.

Census takers will be further identified by the portfolio containing their supplies. The portfolio is blue and bears the legend "1970 Census." In the portfolio the census taker carries her supplies of report forms, maps, pen-cils, and other tools necessary for her work.

Citrus LL begins with 'round-robin'

Winning spikesters Scots top Giants Braves romp

The Green and White broke a four - year losing streak to Ganesha High in Track and Field, and in doing so, set a state re-cord in the pole vault.

Dan Keebler cleared the bar at 14-6 on his first attempt to set a new school, league, and state record this year. The jump enabled the Highlanders to take a 66-52 win over the Giants.

Actually, the vault is not only the best in California this year, but also the second best in the nation. Mike Tucker also cleared the 14-6 standard, but settled for second on more misses.

Tucker had already taken firsts in the 120 high hurdles and the long jump to put the Giants out front early in the

But the Highlanders swept the 220, 440, 880, mile and two-mile runs for the win. With four events remaining, the Giants held what looked like an insurmount able 49-37 lead.

Scot John Bowser edged out a pair of Highlander teammates to sweep the 220, Gordon Innes led a Scot sweep of the two-mile, and Keebler cleared the bar on his first attempt to boost the Highlanders to their come-frombehind victory.

The Scots are now 4-1 in San Antonio League competition and occupy first place.

Alta Loma won 14 of 16 events in collecting their 90-28 track and field victory over Royal Oak last week. The win boosted the Braves up to a 4-1 record for Hacienda League action. Royal Oak has now sunk to a 1-4 re-

Ted Troia was the big winner for the Braves, taking firsts in the 220, 440, and anchoring the winning mile relay team.

Troia's first victory came in the 220 where he raced to a 23.7 clocking. His 51.2 in the 440 was a full second better than the second-place finisher, and he ran away from the competition in the mile relay.

The 440-yard relay team was also victorious and outdistanced the Royal Oak quartet, speeding to a time of 46.0. Others who proved victorious for the Braves were Tusi Mamea in the shot put (48-3), Terry Carlson in the pole vault (11.6), Kevin Barnes in the high jump (6-0) and Gordon Youngblood in the 120-yard high hurdles (17.0).

The Royal Oak Bees put down the Braves' uprising in squeak-ing to a 50-45 win. The Braves were sparked by a double win in the 70-yard high hurdles and the 120-yard low hurdles by Mike Gutzwiller.

The AL Cees took eight of ten events to sweep to a 57-29 pasting of the Royal Oak Cee squad, Raul Abrego raced to victory in the 100, 180, and the winning 440 relay team.

Thinclads tough

Ernie Cathcart, Doran Hearn and the mile relay team from Chaffey College will trek to Mt. San Antonio this weekend for the 12th Annual Mt. San Antonio Re-

Cathcart has gone undefeated this season in the shot put, but will run into the world's best at MSAC. Hearn recently leaped 23 ft. 1 1/2 inches in the long jump for the fourth best mark in the nation in the junior college

The mile relay team has outclassed everyone in the Mission Conference this year, but is still a long way from the world record of 3:02.8 set by Trinidad in 1966. The best time the Alta Loma gang has recorded this year is 3:20.

In its last dual meet of the season, the Panther Spikesters completely dominated Riverside 115-24. Chaffey garnered first in 14 of the 16 events in enjoying a relaxing afternoon.

Vic Lemos also finished first in the 880-yard run, as did Dacolias in the 440. Hearn collected a double in the long jump and the triple jump, while Joe Brogdon won the pole vault (12-6) and finished second in the high jump by 'flopping' over 6-0.

Chaffey College's heraided baseball squad took a break from the fierce Mission Conference action last week, but the afternoon was anything but relaxing. Coach Howard Lowder's Panthers faced the leader of the Desert Conference, Mt. San Ja-cinto and squeaked past them on a last inning single by Darrell Cederlind, 5-4.

When the Panthers returned to MC action, they found the going a little easier with an 8-5 win over Southwestern. The win was worth more than the Panthers thought, as Grossmont and San Bernardino, Chaffey's roughest competition, were de-feated by supposedly weaker Grossmont was stunned by Riverside, 7-3, for the first Mission Conference win by the Tigers. San Bernardino was crushed by a surging Citrus

After spotting the Apaches three runs on four hits in the first inning, John Gaylord settled down to turn in some fine pitching for his fifth win in MC

Gary Roma punched a two-run single in the first and Doug Strictland added two more runs with a double in the bottom of hold opening ceremonies this Saturday at the little league park on Baseline in Cucamonga. The first pitch will be delivered by Dan Mikesell, San Bernardino County Supervisor at 9 a.m. to begin the minor league division of the "butterfly game,"

The game is named as such because it will be played by all of the teams; each pair playing two innings, It is to get the buttlerflies out of the boys before official league competition begins.

The major league ceremonies will commense with John Schnepp hurling the first ball at 2 p.m. Schnepp is the owner of the Upland and Montclair Pizza Palaces, and has been supporting several little league teams over the years.

The Webelo group of Scouts will perform the flag ceremony preceeding the game, and the new snack bar will be open for refreshments.

Registration

Registration for the Upland Colt League Baseball will be held from 10 a.m. to noon this Saturday at Upland Memorial Boys born before August 1, and are 15 or 16 are eligible to compete, according to League President, Ted Miller.

Girls' softball

Montclair Golden League girls' softball will hold their opening ceremonies this Sunday afternoon at 1 p.m. at Kingsley Little League Park. The league, in its third year of existence, features eight minor league teams and six major league squads.

Highlighting the ceremonies will be a double header between a pair of major league teams and another pair of minor league

Scots get past Cavs; lose thriller to Chino

Upland High school continued its bid for a second straight San Antonio League (SAL) championship at the expense of Montclair last week by beating their cross-town rivals, 3-1.

Kendell Scott was the hero of the day, as he fashioned a twohitter against the Cavaliers, Scott fanned five Cavaliers, walked two and allowed only Greg Campbell and Hank Merenda to reach first base on hits. The win was Scott's third in a row.

Scott was outdone, however, by three Cavalier pitchers, Ken Harrison started and allowed the only Highlander hit by Glenn Jackson. Scott Cassells came in to relieve Harrison in the third inning when the hurler lost control.

Cassells then got wild himself and was replaced by Scott Severen. All three combined for eight walks, which was the diference in the game.

The Highlanders scored all three of their runs in the third when Eric Frazier walked, was sacrificed to second by Steve Tarbell and scored on Jackson's hit' a double down the left field

Doug Feaster was hit by a pitch and Scott walked to load the bases. Two more walks forced in another pair of runs and the Highlanders looked like they were off to the races. But Scott was picked off third base to end the uprising.

Upland then went 11 innings with Chino before losing to the Cowboys, 1-0. It was a heart-breaker for the Highlanders, as they had several opportunities to win, but failed to push across a single tally.

The game was filled with spec tacular defensive plays by both teams. Upland threatened in the fourth, but the Cowboy second-baseman, Craig Mask, made a defensive gem to end the Highlander threat.

Upland made several outstanding maneuvers as well. Mask hit what was sure to be a double into right-center field, but the Highlanders' rightfielder, Glenn Jackson, made a spectacualr shoestring catch for the out.

Mask did double in the sixth inning and Ray Sheffield hit a line shot over second base that would have scored Mask, but Don Boswell made a circus catch of the shot to double up Mask. Upland is slated to travel to Wolfpack territory tomorrow for a 3:15 contest with Claremont.

AL stuns Dons

It took single runs in the fifth and sixth innings, and a pair more in the seventh for the Alta Loma Braves to overcome Sierra Vista, 4-3, for the Braves' fourth win in Hacienda League action.

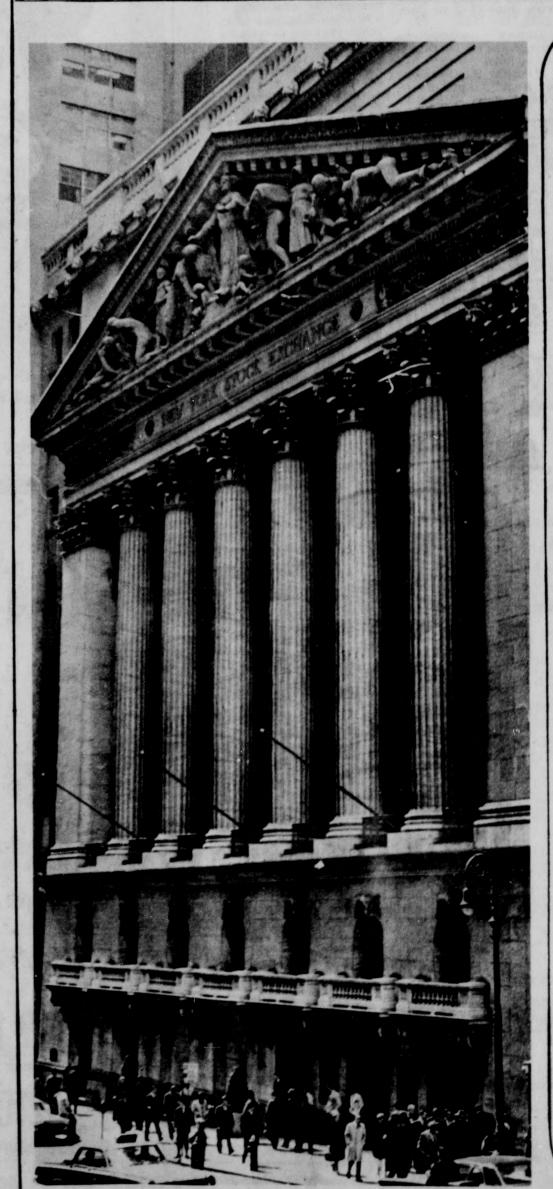

Paul Perry was the winning pitcher for Coach Artie Keough's Braves. Perry fanned seven Dons and walked no one, scattering seven hits. Perry is now 2-1 in league competition.

The Dons jumped out in front in the third inning behind singles by Jeff Osbourne and Steve Mc -Crystal and an error. The Braves got a break in the top of the fifth with two out. Chuck Hermes was on second base, and scored as Mike Gilliam beat out an infield hit and the second baseman threw the ball away.

But the Dons came back to score a pair of unearned runs in the bottom half of the inning.

Alta Loma scored to pull with in one run in the sixth when Rick Mack scored on Juan Vasquez's single to center. But the deciding two runs came in the last inning with one out.

Doug Young reached first base safely on an error. Ron Gil then hit the next pitch to the Don's third baseman who threw the ball away at first, scoring Young. Mack then singled to right to drive in Gill for the winning tally.

Proteins may be key to memory

The answer to how we learn and store memories may lie in the way our brain cells make proteins, according to a research team at the University of California (Los Angeles) Medical School, In most organs, protein synthesis partly involves replacement of cells that are lost, reflecting a con stant effort by the organ to maintain itself. Brain cells, however, are rarely replaced. There are a fixed number of cells at maturity, and as brain cells are lost replacement is rare. Why then does protein syn-thesis in the adult brain continue at a high level throughout life?

The UCLA team believes that, since the proteins are not used to in crease the number or size of brain cells, they may be actively involved in the specialized functions of the mature brain.

As the brain develops, they found, protein synthesis becomes very sen sitive to alterations in the internal environment, For example, the altera-tions in ionic distribution which accompany a nerve impluse may result in an instant acceleration of activity along the brain cell protein assembly

The flurry of protein synthesis may stop just as suddenly. This stop and go on the assembly line could be geared to the information processing system of the brain by affecting the formation of proteins which are involved in this phenom - enon. For several year scientists have recognized the importance of amino acids, the protein build-ing blocks, in relation to mental development. The research at UCLA suggests that a shortage or excess of one amino acid. perhaps owing to a genetic defect in metabolism or a deficient diet, may cause mental retardation by al tering the synthesis of brain proteins during de - velopment, This work at UCLA appears to support the hypothesis that protein syn-thesis is an essential key for coding a memory

4-H members share variety of programs

Even though 4-H Clubs have been operating for more than 50 years, and claim nearly 30 million alumni, the question still is asked: Do 4-H'ers do anything besides raise livestock and chickens, grow crops, or can tomatoes?"

The answer is an em-phatic "yes". Another common query is: "Don't all 4-H'ers live on farms?" The answer to that is definitely Only about a third of the 3,5 million live on farms. Another third reside in cities and small towns, and the remaining third live in rural and farm communities, ac-cording to the Federal Extension Service.

Altogether, there are some 50 categories of 4-H programs. Each attempts to educate, teach skills, develop character and leadership, and motivate the youngster to "achieve" by doing the job as well as he can.

Progress and achievement are interchangeable. The national 4-H achievement program, sponsored by Ford Motor Company Fund, recognizes these attributes.

Even the traditional Farm-related programs have been restructured to keep pace with modern agri-business and home economics demands. The science approach to 4-H projects was begun almost two decades ago. Surveys, research, tests, experiments and evaluation now are routine for 4-H boys and girls.

Among projects added during the past 10 years are conservation, photog-raphy, food-nutrition, bicycle, horse, veterinary science, home manage ment, consumer educa tion and commodity marketing. Adults supervising project work are specialists in their respective fields.

Incentive awards of fered annually by the achievement program sponsor are: medals of honor to the top four members in each county; an expense-paid trip to the National 4-H Con gress in Chicago for the highest ranking member in the entire state; 12 Henry Ford II scholar-ships of $600 each to national champions. The scholarships go to six boys and six girls.

C-P center offers three new courses

Three new "Overnighter" sections have been added to Spring shortcourse schedules at the residential educational center conducted by California State Polytechnic College Kellogg-Voorhis on its Voorhis Campus between Covina and San Dimas. In announcing the additions, Ken Kitch, director of a facility which has now passed its 775th -conference mark, also released one change

Pitzer College shows off its own television studio

Pitzer College held open house for its new television studio, April 16, Phil Cleveland, the studio's young director, showed up in all of his many hats,

He is designer, carpenter, painter, producer, director, repairman, secretary and custodian of the three-room complex known as the Pitzer College television studio.

In the early part of 1968. Cleveland, a graduate of Cal State Los Angeles, with a degree in broad casting, arrived on campus. He held a first class FCC license. He was fresh out of the Coast Guard where he'd spent three and a half years in public relations, news, television and film work.

At that time, Pitzer's television facilities were something of a myth. Its few parts were yet in crates. The area allotted for the College's television system was in the basement of Scott Hall, not a particulary stirring with hammer, nails, and a paintbrush, and with his own plans in hand, Cleveland began the awe some task of physically creating a studio where now, he says, "in black and white we can do any thing that a big studio can do. It is in all senses a full-sized studio, though small." At the open At the open house, he demonstrated its many capabilities.

With the help of a student, Cleveland built a television studio which is draped in black felt and walled in discarded egg separators to absorb unwanted noises. Three floor cameras dominate the room.

The control room which he carpeted from remnants scavenged from a remodeling of the resi-dential halls, features a throne-like platform containing a control pan-

It has a two-foot elevation off the main floor, and from the panel, Cleveland has a clear view of the studio, the nine monitors, and other equipment. A main feature of the control booth is an Alma video switcher which enables him to se lect between cameras, effect fades and cuts, special effects, and edit with electronic efficiency. Its $10,000 cost represents a signif icant percent of the total cost of the studio. "The set-up is designed to be fool-proof -- all delicate things are out of reach of rying fingers."
The third room houses an office and a work bench where Cleveland makes all necessary repairs on the electronic equipment, and a "film island" through which motion picture film and 35mm slides enter a special tel - evision camera.

At present, Cleveland offers independent study for eight eager Pitzer students, "I've had 40 or 50 requests for a regular course in television. I'd like to offer a course on "Television Doc umentary" in which stu-dents would examine the technique of the documentary program and its effect on the public. Their final project would be their own documentary."

As director and producer of Pitzer's television studio, Cleveland has overseen the videotaping of several faculty research projects. Many of the films are shown to classes. At present, nine classrooms are equipped with TV screens, A monitor in the control room enables Cleveland to "view exactly what the students in each class

The studio is in heavy use right now, and if Cleveland's dream becomes a reality, it could operate on a 24-hour schedule. Since his dream would require funds over his annual budget, he has requested support from a foundation. In his proposal, Cleveland suggests that students, instead of preparing the traditional

The tape would then be stored in Pitzer's videotape library for future classroom showings. Not only would the material have a desirable immed iacy, but it would have a larger audience than would a term paper. In addition, the documentary would reflect a Pitzer spirit, and would relate more closely to the needs of the college than would

Vandals, collectors plunder state park sites

SACRAMENTO - Vandalism and the removal of irreplaceable artifacts from archeological sites both in and out of the State Park System continue to be major problems in California, according to William Penn Mott Jr., Director of the California Department of Parks and Recreation.

"We have some cases in units of the State Park System where prehistoric indian sites have been almost completely destroyed by bottle collectors, souvenir hunters, and vandals," Mott said.

As an example of this kind of damage Mott pointed to Tsahpek, the site of a prehistoric Yurok Indian Village near Stone Lagoon, state park property located on the Humboldt Coast between Patrick's Point and Prairie Creek Redwoods State Parks.

"Thoughtless pot hanters and bottle gatherers and just plain unthinking visitors have done considerable damage to the area and have removed many artifacts, resulting in substantial destruction of this area."

Because of this, Mott said, we have lost part of the story of Tsahpek, one of the more important Yurok Villages of the area.

Similar problems have occurred throughout California, Mott added, on state park property as well as on private property and other government-owned land.

Anza-Borrego Desert
State Park is another area where many valuable sites have been destroyed, he said, and because of the huge size of the park, about 500,000 acres, it is impossible to keep all areas under surveillance at all times.

"Evidently, many people aren't aware of the laws protecting these historic sites, and if they are aware of them, they don't understand the serious consequences of their actions."

Mott explained that more than 99 percent of man's past is prehistoric and the only way it can be interpreted is through scientific archeological investigations. The story that these areas can tell the archeologist depends on the area being completely undisturbed. Digging up the area, removing items, or even disturbing them and moving them around in the area destroys part of the story.

"The culture of a prehistoric people is revealed through the interrelationships of all the things found at a site, including the soils and plants."

He explained that flesh, cloth, wood, furs, and leather are preserved only in very unusual circumstances, but they may leave a hole, an impression or a ghost image that can tell a story. Careless digging destroys this story.

"An Indian garment decorated at the bottom with bits of shell and held together with a bone pin may decay, and only the shell and the pin remain. Careful exploration and recording of their position will show their nature, otherwise they will be a puzzling random group of fragments."

Archeology is a branch of the science of anthropology concerned with the reconstruction of past human life and culture, Mott said.

Mott said.

"What we are actually doing through archeological research is investigating not pots, but people, and piecing together a story of their way of life."

For those interested in archeology, Mott recom-mended contacting the nearest college, university, or museum. There is a wealth of material available from libraries, he said, and there are many museums and parks such as the State Indian Museum in Sacramento, where Indian artifacts and culture can be observed.

Mott explained that the Department maintains a statewide catalog of archeological sites and conducts excavations in the state Park when nec-

"There are several thousand cataloged archeological sites in California. These must be preserved until we are able to examine them. Until these investigations can be made, we need the wholehearted support of everyone to preserve the sites in a natural condition."

State may quit welfare, Medi-Cal programs

SACRAMENTO---As semblyman John V. briggs (R-Orange & San Bernardino Counties) has introduced an Assembly
Bill and an Assembly
Concurrent Resolution designed to take California completely out of the welfare and Medi-Cal programs as of July 1,

"Let's face it!", said Briggs. "The time has come to realize that this State just does not possess the resources to continue meeting the financial requirements of all the welfare programs we have been stuck with. Particularly, since the Federal government sets the rules and then reimburses us for only half the cost.

"Thus, we have thousands of persons flocking to California to jump on our welfare rolls and receive free tax money and free medical aid. In too many cases the welfare recipient receives a better medical care program and standard of living than some of our hard-pressed tax-paying citizens. This must stop!"

Briggs pointed out that California's fiscal problems stem primarily from the high sum spent on education, health and welfare. These three programs comprise 82 per cent of the general fund budget of California and their annual budget increases consistently exceed the growth rate of this state's tax reve-

"When we establish expenditure priorities for available state revenues. it is clear that education is more important than state programs of health and welfare," the Assemblyman said. "I believe that equal educational opportunity for all children is a more important factor in breaking the cycle of poverty than continuation of high-cost, ineffective government programs which encourage dependency upon the dole."

My resolution would provide that all necessary education funds be taken from the more than $1 billion freed by absolving state responsibility for health care and welfare," Briggs concluded.

Current anti-poverty Homer Briggs to head measures'insufficient' YMCA another year

LOS ANGELES -- A workable strategy to end the cancer of poverty in Southern California, which dehumanizes people and eats away at the body politic, has been proposed by the Southern California Research Council.

The council, after an in-depth study for two years of the urban poor in the 15 southernmost counties of California, where two-thirds of the state's 20 million residents live, concludes in its 17th annual report that "Poverty problems are not soluble in the context of present institutional arrangements."

The report, entitled Poverty inSouthern California: How Shall the Wrongs be Righted?" was released at a news conference in the Bilt-more Hotel, Los Angeles.

Briefly, the report shows the magnitude of poverty and unemploy-ment in Southern California, soundly attacks present welfare, man-power, education, and housing policies designed to aid the poor, and of-fers a blueprint of alternative policies to help solve problems "which must and will be solved." Some business executives called the report "the best SCRC has ever proClearly meant to be read by the "haves" as much as the "have-nots," the report begins by stat-ing that "many, perhaps most of the varied readers who may consult this report are beneficiaries of the very institutional arrangements which have produced the anguish, de-privation, and dismay of poverty in our midst. So are its authors.

Understanding that this is true -- that the poverty we decry emanates from the same sources as many of our enjoyable plea-sures -- is the first step toward devising a workable strategy to end pov-erty in Southern Califor-nia."

"That strategy," the report continues, "calls for true reform in all institutions that, quite literally, produce poverty
. . Existing institutions which perpetuate unequal opportunity and isolate the poor produce inequity, injustice, and finally violence: physical violence against people and property, psychological violence against individual talents, emotional health, and humanness.

"They do incalculable harm to the whole of so-ciety -- to the rich, comfortable and poor alike. They must be modified."

Homer Briggs has been re-elected president of the Ontario - Upland YMCA Board of Directors at its annual dinner meeting. Other officers reelected were Allen P. Mc-Combs, first vice president; Jim Freman, second vice president; Charles A. Smith, secre-tary; and Carl L. Quandt, treasurer.

New Board members elected were Mrs. Jack Pierce, Lyle Snow, and Jack Clarke, class of 1973, and Steve Young and Paul Holtsclaw, class of 1971.

Board members reelected to class of 1973 were Gene Alair, Dr. Glen Robson, George Vin-nedge, Mrs. John Frost, Don Wight, Reverend El-wood Wissman, Richard Custer and Charles Mil-

Homer Briggs recog-nized organizations and individuals who have helped the YMCA. Among them were the California Community Foundation for their gift of a 12-passenger Ford van to be converted into a youth mobile; the Assistance League of Upland for their support of the Cucamonga-YMCA boys club; the Price Foundation and the Y's Men's-Y's Mennettes Club for their outstanding service to the local Y through the year.

Joe Kamansky was honored for 20 years service on the board of directors; Jim Freeman for his chairmanship of the Study Committee; and Cliff Donaldson for his work in camping and physical education.

Molly Baker, M. D.,
layman from the Westchester YMCA., gave the feature address.
Robert Jennings, Executive Director, in his annual report said that one of the features of the YMCA is that it is continually changing with the times. It is attempting to involve itself with the new generation and attempting to find ways of involving youth in decision making and responsibility. Jennings called attention to the recent study of the local YMCA by a Study Com-mittee assisted by the Pacific Southwest Area YMCA in which a master plan was adopted by the Board of Directors and a development committee set up. One of the outstanding priorities in the master plan is emphasis on expansion of the YMCA in the peripheral communities of service.

A Youth Mobile, which has been given the YMCA by the California Community Foundation, will help reach those boys un-able to get to the "Y"

Building, according to Jennings. He also called attention to several other new programs such as the special gym class under Milt Pettit for children with coordination problems girls gymnastics, en-larged junior high school program, Adventurers Club, Karate, jogging and many others. Over 8,500 different people were served by the YMCA during 1969.

Entertainment provided by the Chaffey High School a cappella choir under Mrs. Jeanette Harris. Ontario Fire Chief Richard Custer was chairman of the annual din-ner committee and served as master of ceremonies. Other committee members were Miss Edna Hertz, Sherwin Gross-

Elwood Wissman and Miss Debbi Presto. The invocation was given by the Rev. Ray Hite of the Upland Christian Church and the Pledge of Allegiance was led by Paul Holtsclaw, chief of the Kitchi Nodin "Y" Inman, Ernie Payne, Mrs. Nate Worsley, the Rev.

Actually it's a oneyear recruiting program designed to bring experienced personnel into the Air National Guard, particularly the 163rd Fighter Group at Ontario International Airport.

The one-year enlistment is aimed at the prior serviceman or guards-man just finishing his six-year obligation. Prior service personnel would increase the com bat readiness of the Air Guard through the use of experienced personnel.

Such a program also saves taxpayer dollars by reducing the training costs of inexperienced guardsmen.

The Air Guard will continue to accept persons without prior service, but the number being accepted will be much smaller than in the past due to a reduction in basic trainee allocations forced by defense spending cut - backs. Some of the benefits for prior service personnel include retirement pay, hospitalization, base exchange and commissary privileges, plus space available travel flights to many areas within and outside the United States. Average annual pay for staff sergeants is $740, and up to $1135 for master sergeants. Officers can make as much as $2,000 per year. The obligation is for one year only.

Persons seeking more information on Try One are urged to contact Ken-neth Elrod in the Career Control section, 163rd Fighter Group, California Air National Guard, Ont ario International Airport 91761, or phone 984-2705.

Phone company offers new look in booths

WOODCHUCK, Calif., -You're right! Judy Heath is phoning from a wooden "booth" that bears a striking resemblance to an old fashion pine coffin -- even to the rope handles on its sides.

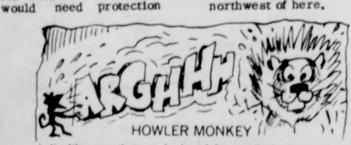

The unique booth stands in front of a frontierstyle barbershop - mortuary that serves as a major attraction for visitors to this rugged Old West resort area.

When owner Tony Tobin asked for a pay phone outside his tonsorialfuneral parlor, General Telephone Co. of California said the instrument from the weather. "We told the telephone folks there was an Old Western coffin in the mortuary that we wanted to use as a booth," To-bin said. "We though it would be more suitable than one of those metal and glass booths you see everywhere nowadays."

General of California, a subsidiary of General Telephone & Electronics Corporation, agreed to Tobin's unusual request and installed the telephone in the coffin.

Miss Heath is shown placing a call to her home in Los Angeles, 100 miles northwest of here.

LINE ISN'T DEAD -- Judy Heath makes telephone call from unusually designed telephone booth in Woodchuck, Calif., which General Telephone installed in front of a frontier-styled barbershop-mortuary.

Two more anti-smog proposals made

A "hybrid" low-horsepower automobile engine and a pollutant "throttle" for heavy industrial plants have been proposed at a UCLA conference as possible cures for smog.

Today's high-horse power gasoline engine uses its maximum power only for starting and in "power surges," Arnold Rosenbloom, assistant director of civil systems for TRW, Inc., said. Normal city driving requires an engine of "only 5-15 horsepower." Rosenbloom said, Such a low horsepower engine, combining the conven tional gasoline one with an electro-magnetic transmission for extra power would spew out far less air pollutants.

Another anti-pollution device under experimentation at TRW is a smoke and gas burner with a specially designed throttle to reduce the pollutants put into the atmosphere by foundries and manufacturing plants.

Described by Rosen bloom as part of the "beneficial fallout from the Apollo space program." the throttle-burner works on the same principle as the throttle device used on moon-landing craft.

Rosenbloom's discus sion of the potential of technology in relieving urban problems was at the symposium "Los An-geles: Metropolis of the Future?" held by the UCLA Institute of Government and Public Affairs in cooperation with UCLA Extension.

There will be a continued decline in employment in the aerospace industry in the Los Angeles area, Rosenbloom said, but this will be offset to a large extent by the rise in software, or computer programming to serve a variety of needs.

One future use of computer systems, he sug gested, could be for the control of traffic on streets and freeways.

Like Venice Venetian Gondollers used to glide along the canals and waterways or Coral Gables, Florida when the city was originated in the 1920's. The gondolas are gone but the beautiful waterways remain.

Business activities rise

February business ac-tivity in Southern Cali-fornia was fractionally lower than a record high level in January and 7.6 percent stronger than a year ago, Security Pacific National Bank reports.

Among individual economic components, Security Pacific reports month-to-month gains in construction (as measured by building permits) and in total spending (as measured by bank debits), offset by declines in department store sales and in real estate sales (as measured by deed re-

Advances since February of 1969 were reported for all but real estate sales, which were down 10 percent from a year ago. The yearly gains were 9 percent in debits, 3.3 percent in department store sales and .9 percent in construc -

The bank's total business index, based on a value of 100.0 assigned to average economic performance during 1957 through 1959, recorded a slight decline from 206.5 in January to 206.4 in February. The index reading for February of 1969 was 191.8

Employment reached a new high, but employment new high, but unemployment also advanced (to 4.5 percent from 4.2 percent) during January, the latest month for which seasonally adjusted labor statistics are available for the counties of Imperial, Los Angeles, Riverside, San Bernardino, Orange, San Diego, Santa Barbara and Ventura.

The seasonally adjusted January employment figure of 4,751,500 was up 24,300 from December, up 21,400 from the previous high last November and up 135,500 (2.9 percent) from February, 1969.

S & L firm backs low cost housing

"Pomona First Federal Savings and Loan Association is dedicated to doing its share in providing housing for low and middle income families," Richard White side, senior vice president in charge of lenging activities, said recently.

Whiteside returned from the Second Special Urban Lending Clinic sponsored by the United States Savings and Loan League in San Francisco.

The work-shop type clinic informed participants of the various programs sponsored by the United States government to better housing conditions for low income citizens. Congress has long recognized the need for better shelter for Americans, and since 1965 has provided funds to build adequate shelter units.

The United States Savings and Loan League, in considering the vital role played by its members and all savings and loans in furnishing shelter, supports the Unites States government aims. Being the number one source of residential real estate financing, the savings and loans will become even more involved in the government programs by extending needed funds for worthwhile projects. Over 50 percent of all housing in the nation is provided by the savings and loans. Pomona First Federal believes there is neither a city too large nor too small that does not have a need for improved housing, and will continue its dedication by assisting with funds on qualified developments.

Whiteside was one of the 150 delegates to the meeting, some of whom had come from as far as Alaska, Hawaii and the District of Columbia.

Economy of area still down

A local economic decline of slightly more than two per cent during the past two months is estimated by Security Pacific National Bank.

Decreased business activity is reflected in seasonally adjusted statistics for employment, unemployment, construc-tion, real estate activity and department store sales, according to the bank's Economic Research Department, Running contrary to the downward trend are February and March increases in total spending, as reflected by bank debits (total dollar volume of checks written).

Despite its two-month decline, the Southern California economy remains 6.9 per cent stronger than a year ago (March, 1969). Building and real estate were weaker this March than last, however.

in fact, steel-crushing pressure, rock - melting heat, and engineering problems may keep man from ever penetrating through more than a thin pencil line around a circle the size of a basketball.

To conjecture about the interior of the earth, scientists at The University of Chicago have studied both volcanic samples erupted from below and meteorites from space which might resemble internal constituents of the earth.

Another promising avenue is experimental petrology-reproducing conditions of the formation of rocks in the laboratory. Such experiments. using recently designed equipment, create temperatures and pressures believed to exist at the depths at which these minerals and rocks are formed.

In the Department of Geophysical Sciences of The University of Chicago, scientists are using high-pressure "bombs, special heating equipment, electron microprobes, spectrographs, standard gas station air pumps, and ingenious mathematics to solve the mysteries of the inner structure and modes of formation in certain na tural minerals. Working in particular with silicate and carbonate systems, he uses hydrothermal devices to duplicate deep earth conditions. As civilization continues to contaminate the atmosphere, the number of small, dust-like par ticulate pollutants in the air steadily increases. According to the calculations done at the gov ernment's Environmental Science Services Administration (ESSA) this steady increase of par ticulate matter in the atmosphere may ultimately create eternal winter on earth.

Dr. Earl W. Barrett of the ESSA Research Laboratories told the International Solor Energy Conference in Melbourne, Australia that our total environment is being altered, perhaps disas-trously and irreversibly, by human activities.

Particles in the air change the reflectivity of the atmosphere and affect the amount of sunlight reaching the earth's surface. Barratt told the Melbourne conference that 50 million tons of dust particles added to the atmosphere and retained there would cause the average surface tem erature over the earth to dip from its present 60°F to about 40°F - a temperature at which most forms of plant life could not servive. He estimates that this is only some 10 to 20 times as much material as is not present in the atmosphere.

Savings insured to $20,000.00 by an Act of Congress.

Upland Savings pays the maximum interest on insured savings. No other insured financial institution in America can offer you higher interest or more insurance, because all insured financial institutions' interest and insurance are regulated by governmental regulations.

Upland Savings is a part of America's insured savings system whose total assets exceed $150,000,000,000.00 (150 billion dollars) and where, throughout America, over 44,000,000 (44 million) savers save. As a savings counselor, we suggest you look at more than the stated rate of yield of investments. If you had needed to "cash-in" your investment before maturity this past year, you would sustain substantial losses. In 1969 only Upland Savings would have returned your investment plus high earnings.

You too, can benefit by saving with us.

Candidate says judges aren't doing their job

Alex Tobin, a candidate cused and even protected for San Bernardino Superior Court Judge in the June 2 primary, feels that judges have lost sight of their prime function -that of protecting the rights of the people. "My faith in the principles upon which this country was founded and my dissatisfaction with the trend of our court decisions compel my can-didacy," Tobin asserted in a statement of candidacy filed with County Registrar of Voters William

"Lawlessness, violence and extremism are ex-

by those judges who lack the courage and determination to uphold the rights of the people -- as well as those of the ac-

The Upland attorney declared that "judges are deafened by the screams of the disorderly few and cannot hear the anguished cries of the majority. They have lost touch with the people.
"If judges had performed the function of judges and left social reform to the legislators, we would not now be troubled with legally sanctioned permissive-ness and prevalent immorality.

Tobin, who as chief as-sistant county counsel de-signed and implemented San Bernardino's comprehensive Air Pollution Control District, said he would actively campaign for the contested judge-ship on a platform of "The Law is There, Let's Enforce it.'

'I believe the law already exists to bring about order and personal security -- if property interpreted and enforced by the courts.

"A proper interpretation of the constitution -all of it and not just a portion -- and existing state laws can bring about such protection for the people and the community without a loss of individual rights.

A resident of the state for 30 years and of Upland for 12, the 45-yearold Tobin's experience in law has covered a wide spectrum, including criminal, civil and public legal matters.

During his years as County Counsel, he established the County's first legislative program

Joint-power bond sale for sewers proposed

SACRAMENTO-Legislation to permit local agencies, under a joint powers agreement to sell revenue bonds to finance construction of sewage facilities has been proposed by Assemblyman John P. Quimby, D-Rialto.

The measure co-authored by Jerry Lewis would amend the state government code to include sewage plants in the Joint Powers Act. Existing law only permits joint powers to issue revenue bonds to construct farm exhibit buildings, sports arenas, public buildings and to allow Los Angeles county to develop regional parks.

Quimby said the bill was suggested by the City of San Bernardino which plans to construct sanitary sewage facilities to meet the needs of an increasing population. Quimby said revenue bonds are not paid for with tax funds but with the revenue derived from the facility.
